Certifications =
Skill1 = The first skill would be arts & crafts because I am very creative and fun. I have created many scrapbooks in the past. In high school, I helped teach a pre-school class where we had to create lesson plans regarding arts & crafts.
Skill2 = I could also teach leadership/character development skills. I have many leadership roles in college, including several President roles in organizations. I am very driven, ambitious and love to help people.

Skill3 = Creative writing (or anything academic) is another skill I could teach because currently I am a teaching assistant in a child development course at my college. I tutor and assist all types of college students. I use various techniques and styles for each student.

Experiences = I have many experiences interacting with children, including babysitting, Special Olympics, Pals & Partners (mentoring at-risk youth), and being a line therapist (providing behavioral therapy in-homes for children with autism).

Attributes = I have many experiences, inner passion, commitment, ambition, interpersonal abilities, and people skills. I am extremely outgoing, lively and love to meet new people.
